To Whom It May Concern:

Dr. Ramirez is not only a wonderful professor, she is a great mentor as well. She cares deeply about Middle School Education and her students. In all of her classes, she models classroom management, class discussions, and lesson plan ideas. Dr. Ramirez encourages and inspires her students in the Middle Grades Program at Appalachian State University. She is always willing to help her students with their work and projects, observe them in a classroom, and offer advice.

Dr. Ramirez's teachings, her dedication to Appalachian State's Collegiate Middle Level Association (CMLA), and her passion for young adolescents are just some of the elements that make her a great professor.

Sincerely,

Erika R. Taylor
