

APPALACHIAN STATE UNIVERSITY
Promotion to Associate, Fall 2014
Summary Vita

Laurie A. Ramirez, Assistant Professor, Department of Curriculum and Instruction
Salary: $61,095, 9-months, State funds

Educational Background:

B.A. (1995) Secondary Education (Emphases: Spanish, English), University of Utah
M.A. (2002) Linguistics (Emphasis: Second Language Acquisition), University of Utah
Ph.D. (2009) Teaching and Learning (Emphasis: Teacher Education), University of Utah

Professional Experience:

1995-2005: Middle Grades Teacher, Granite School District, Salt Lake City, Utah
2004-2009: Graduate Teaching and Research Assistant; Department of Teaching and Learning,
University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah
2009-Present: Assistant Professor, Appalachian State University, Boone, North Carolina

Publications (in summary form):

Nine articles in peer-reviewed, scholarly journals (one invited, eight contributed)
Five peer-reviewed articles in conference proceedings

Memberships in Professional Organizations:

American Educational Research Association
Association of Teacher Education
Association of Middle Level Education
National Professors of Middle Level Education
Self-Study of Teacher Education Practices
North Carolina Association of Middle Level Education
North Carolina Professors of Middle Level Education

Honors/Awards:

Awarded: Reich College of Education Outstanding Service Award (May 2014)
Awarded: Division K Affirmative Action Award (April 2009, April 2010)
Elected: Council Member of the Middle Level Education Research group of AERA (April 2014)