Open Ended Questions

1. I really like how social justice centered this course was and how I was able to truly connect and feel apart of Guatemala after what we were taught and being there for a couple of weeks.
2. I liked how Laurie provided good questions and feedback for guided conversation and group discussion rather than asking each of us individually point-blank for an answer. She was very involved in the projects and course but hands' off when it came to things we should or could come to conclusions about ourselves. She was more of a guide and wanted us to learn for ourselves and gain something meaningful from this experience and course.
3. No, the course and instructor were fantastic and I haven't been able to stop talking about both of those things to friends, family, and classmates alike.

Expectations for this course were clearly communicated	2	We kept being told that we would go more in depth with the YACIP requirements as we went along, but we didn't until the week or two before it was due. If this is what we were supposed to be working on all semester, then the expectations should have been made clear at the beginning!

2. I liked that she was always there to help with anything that we needed.
3. A layout of all the due dates, granted I know she did have one at the beginning (I think) and it got messed up when she realized we only had ten weeks instead of sixteen.

The course content was well organized	3	The weekly tabs on her ASUlearn page was helpful, but they were not always accessible.
Expectations for this course were clearly communicated	3
I found instructional materials used in this course to be helpful	1	There was way too much information which was all repetitive of what we have already had. It was a waste of time and overwhelming.
The instructor utilized teaching methods that aided my learning	1	An overwhelming amount of unnecessary reading is not helpful. The project she had us do was repetitive and consisted of information we have already covered.
The instructor was available to students for help and support	1	She NEVER responds to email!!!! It also takes her 2 months to start grading assignments. The first reading response wasn't graded until after we had already submitted the next two. There was no feedback on the first assignment, so how can we know and learn from our mistakes on subsequent assignments?
The instructor provided feedback in a timely manner	1	It took her two months to start grading assignments.
The instructor treated all students fairly	4	She treated us fairly, but she wasn't professional in how she treated us.
The course contributed to my knowledge of the subject matter	1	It was repetitive and a waste of time.

this instructor	1	On a scale of 1 to 10 with 1 being poor and 10 being excellent, she would get a negative 100.

Open Ended Questions

1. The end of class every day. I didn't like anything about this class.
2. Nothing! She is a horrible professor. She doesn't respond to emails, doesn't give feedback in a timely manner, and she is unprofessional. Sending a rude email complaining about our grades after we haven't received feedback is not helpful. Proceeding to post about how you just laid the smack down on your class via Facebook is beyond unprofessional. I can't take her seriously when she tells me what is professional behavior, because she is so horribly unprofessional.
3. Get rid of it, or get a different instructor. The instructor should collaborate with the professors of CI 3100 and CI 3200 so that the information is not overlapped. An even better idea would be to have the same professor for all of these classes.
4. Please fire her. You can find somebody else to do her job a million times better. A monkey could do a better job.

Open Ended Questions

1. That I had already received all of this information from Dr. Thornton
2. Her willingness to cancel class
3. Burn it to the ground and rebuild it from scratch
4. Dr. Ramirez literally made me wish I had chosen Secondary or Elementary education as my major. The fact that she is a program director astounds me since running a single class appears to be too much of a burden for her. I found it extremely enlightening that the manager of our program walked into class the first day completely oblivious to the fact that this was a shortened semester to accommodate our internships. I will not recommend Dr. Ramirez to anyone, nor this program as long as she is the manager.

this instructor	1	she is inconsiderate and unprofessional, blasting her students on facebook

Open Ended Questions

1. Sadly, nothing comes to mind.
2. Again sadly I have nothing to add.
3. Perhaps a different instructor would have had more to offer. Also it might be a good idea for instructors to talk with one another so content does not feel repetitive.
4. Ramirez is very unprofessional. She canceled class 15 minutes before class was due to start. When she had to have known she was not coming down the mountain an hour previous. Even if student are not completing their assignments, she had no right to blast it all over Facebook. Assignments were not graded in a timely manner. Took weeks to get a grade or feedback. She also did not respond to emails. She was also disrespectful to students in class, basically calling them liars. Highly disappointed for the money I paid.

The course content was well organized	1	Ramirez is the Program Manager/Director of the Middle Grades Cohort, she knew the schedule of our Block II classes (how can you manage a program and NOT know?!) yet she planned for a full semester when we only had 10 weeks of class. Secondly, she extensively lacked providing coherent instruction for her assignments beyond the syllabus. Ramirez was late in providing feedback for our assignments. She waited until half way through our ten week course to grade 9 assignments. She lacked organization in total.
Expectations for this course were clearly communicated	2	Given Ramirez's lack of organization and direction, it was hard to know what to expect for her assignments. Expectations were also skewed. When she was on a time-crunch, students were graded less rigorously while others on the same project were graded in depth. The skew was noticeable to all students as well. The only thing clearly communicated was her lack of interest in teaching this class.
I found instructional materials used in this course to be helpful	1	I feel like this class was a waste of my financial aid money, time and effort. Ramirez was distracted from providing innovative instruction - instead we were provided the SAME information, just from different perspectives and authors, as we had learned in our CI 3920 class in Fall of 2013. I signed up for a class to further my knowledge in adolescent culture not review and sit stagnate on the same information. Given the fact that the material was redundant, no.
The instructor utilized teaching methods that aided my learning	1
The instructor was available to students for help and support	1	Two of my cohort members extensively attempted to contact Ramirez. When Ramirez claimed, I answer my emails, it's my job, she accused a cohort member of lying as she tried to explain to Ramirez that she in fact DID NOT answer her e-mails, and when Ramirez did, they were never timely. I found that offensive, given the hard evidence of Ramirez's slackness and yet she has the AUDACITY to call a student a liar. Furthermore, her e-mails implying that just about everyone in the class was not professional or taking their education seriously, as well as posting a disrespectful Facebook status about us, made Ramirez extremely detested by most of us and made us feel unapproachable. Plus, after her emails and Facebook status, knowing we saw it, she failed to apologize. So much for leading by example .

The instructor provided feedback in a timely manner	1	I have previously stated Dr. Ramirez lacked providing feedback in a timely manner. Her slackness hindered growth in later assignments and hindered our ability to make better grades. The lack of feedback on one assignment due for one week, for example, hinders our capability to see what we could do better for the following weeks. She had an assignment of the same nature due every week, yet graded these assignments all at once. Therefore, if we did one wrong, we did them ALL wrong. She wasn't flexible on re-submission either.
The instructor treated all students fairly	2
The course contributed to my knowledge of the subject matter	1	A course cannot contribute to growth of my content knowledge if it is redundant and taught by an individual who is too consumed by other things to correctly and thoroughly teach a course!
I have maximum effort to meeting my responsibilities as a learner in this course	4	I asked questions about assignments, to which I was responded, Don't over think it, it is a simple assignment, or Refer to the syllabus. I read the material, I made sure to apply myself on my assignments and despite not doing so well on several assignments (after being graded at one time), I learned from what I did wrong and corrected myself on following assignments.

this instructor	1	I am aggravated that I had to take this course. Especially because of all the reasons I listed above, however, I believe her attitude is what makes me resent having taken this course the most. Accusing a student of lying, when there is solid proof she is not, and accusing us of our unprofessional behavior when she is unprepared for the semester's schedule from the get-go, untimely in her grading and feedback, skewed in her grading, and disrespectfully makes a Facebook status about our class is the pompous pot calling the kettle black.
	1	The course would've been better, had it been taught by someone else!

3. Find another instructor that is not consumed by a million other job titles and attempting to multitask her responsibilities. Also, find an instructor who can take the expectations for the course beyond what has already been taught!
4. I'll be surprised if Ramirez gets any decent ratings. From conversations with the majority of our cohort at the Hickory Campus for the BS Middle Grades (started in Fall 2012), everyone was upset with her for the same reasons.

1. Used student projects to teach some of the content.
2. The AsU Learn site was very well organized and material for upcoming weeks was available ahead of time. Deadlines for projects were well organized. She used discussion and the readings assigned connected to the content for that day of class.
3. More emphasis on literacy strategies than literacy issues.
4. It seemed that one problem that our class as a whole had with the course was a lack of clarity/rubrics for assignments. Personally, I felt that overall the expectations for projects and assignments were clear. Expectations could not be too specific because projects allowed for flexibility and self-interpretation. I felt like the instructor was available for further clarification as needed.

The course content was well organized	1	The instructor is the middle grades program manager, and yet was unaware of the fact that the course was compressed into a 10 week course. Then, she forced us to do all the work in this amount of time rather than shorten the course load.
Expectations for this course were clearly communicated	2	The instructor should have been more available to us for questions.
I found instructional materials used in this course to be helpful	1	We covered all of this material in previous required courses. This material was already covered, and it felt like a waste of time.
The instructor utilized teaching methods that aided my learning	3	There were some useful activities in class that I may utilize.
The instructor was available to students for help and support	1	I was called a liar by this instructor because I emailed her and she did not want to admit not responding to me. This is not a safe environment for me to ask for further help and support and hindered my learning.
The instructor provided feedback in a timely manner	1	We turned in about 7 assignment and reading responses and it took over a month for the grading to happen. Reading response assignments were graded late, then students did not have time to go back and improve because it had already been a month before they were graded. This leaves no time for improvement.
The instructor treated all students fairly	3	I will have to wait to see what kind of a grade I receive to be honest with you. I work very hard, and asked for help when needed.
The course contributed to my knowledge of the subject matter	1	Like I said, we went over all of this material before.
I have maximum effort to meeting my responsibilities as a learner in this course	5	I worked hard, and did all I could given the circumstances.

this instructor	1	In summary, just because a person is nice does not make them good or efficient at their job.

Open Ended Questions

1. The instructor seems like she could be a nice person I suppose.
2. Not much
3. This course needs to be incorporated with CI-3920, Teaching Young Adolescents in 21st Century which covered all of this material and more! I would have benefited more by having an additional content course. I would not have to have class this summer if I would have been provided my Young Adolescent Literature course now instead of this course. This course could easily have been combined into a 4 hour course with the materials of both CI3920 and CI4300. Also, the expert study should have been literally workshopped in class on several days. This is a large assignment and was really never covered in class.

4. The end of it. Like I said, I worked hard to complete all of my work in this course. I answered that I expect a grade of A in this course. I might not get what I deserve due to very poor instructional and grading practices of the instructor. The fact that my instructor offered for me to redo an assignment in the way that it should have been done on my request to practice mastery learning, and that the instructor has yet to go back and give credit for this extra work, I am very upset. This has all been very unprofessional. I was called a liar; the instructor was very poor at responding to emails; trust and respect were lost by many of us a couple of weeks into the semester when we discovered a facebook post about our class that was on the instructor's public facebook profile; and grading was slack and unjust in some cases. This is serious and should be acted upon!!!!!!!!!!!!!! I do not feel comfortable that this instructor shows up on asulearn as my academic advisor.

Let students know you are not going to be able to make it to the campus site at least 1 hour in advance. It takes an hour to drive down the mountain at least!
